Rabat, Capitale de la culture du monde islamique

Since the advent of the Arabic poetry and from the dawn of its history which has been marked by creativity and excellence, spreading its singularity and celebrating its uniqueness among other cultures, women have not ceased to prove their artistry in composing sublime poems, exploring new realms in poetry.

Women's poetry has never failed to address all the existing and emerging topics, thus contributing to its enrichment and development. Women poets have always been up to all the human aspirations and realized timeless achievements in all aspects of life thanks to their emotions, ingenuity and bravery. Women's poetry is a pure civilizational accomplishment.

The Islamic World Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (ICESCO) is honored to celebrate the World Poetry Day to mark the close of its Celebration 'Year of Women 2021' and the start of the activities of its Celebration of Rabat as Capital Culture in the Islamic World for 2022, under the high patronage of His Majesty King Mohammed VI. The Celebration of the World Poetry Day aims at highlighting the long-standing heritage of women's poetry as an appreciation and recognition of the achievements that women have made for the best interest of all humanity.
