Call for Participation in the Preparation of a Strategic Study: Enhancing the Role of Culture and Heritage in Facing Climate Change

We are excited to announce an open call for experts to contribute to the preparation of a key strategic study under the auspices of the Islamic World Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (ICESCO). This study aims to develop a strategy that strengthens the role of culture and heritage in addressing the challenges of climate change and preserving cultural identity in the Islamic world.

Required Expertise:

- ◆ Cultural Heritage Preservation (historic buildings, heritage sites, intangible cultural heritage).
- ◆ Climate Change and Environmental Impact Studies on cultural heritage.
- ◆ Cultural and Environmental Policy and the integration of heritage preservation with climate change strategies.
- ◆ Technological Innovation (such as Artificial Intelligence) in cultural heritage preservation.
- ◆ Academic Research on heritage and climate change.

How to Apply:

- ◆ Interested experts are invited to submit their CVs to the following email: heritage@icesco.org, along with a 300-word summary explaining what they can contribute to the project, and a Letter of Intent expressing their interest in participating.

Important Note:

- ◆ Inquiries related to the project can be made via email; however, only the selected candidates will receive responses regarding their participation in the study.
- ◆ The language of the study will be English. After that, ICESCO will arrange for translation into Arabic and French, as these are the two official languages of ICESCO.

Application Deadline: 31 March 2025

- ◆ For more details and to apply, please submit via: heritage@icesco.org
- ◆ We look forward to receiving your applications and working together on this important initiative.
- ◆ The document with detailed information is attached and available for download.
