ICESO-AZERBAIJAN NATAVAN HERITAGE EXCELLENCE AWARD

for the best practice in the Promotion, Innovations and effective management in Safeguarding and the heritage in the Islamic world.
It celebrates excellence in heritage management.

Introduction

In honor of the Azerbaijani public figure Khurshidbanu Natavan, ICESCO and Heydar Aliyev Foundation are launching the ICESCO-Azerbaijan Natavan Excellence Award for best practice in promoting and profiling the best practice in the management and conservation of heritage assets in the Islamic World.

Effective conservation and management of heritage has a profound impact on people's identity and guarantees future generation with a heritage to be proud of. Given the current concerns in the world caused by unsustainable developments, conflict and climate change humanity faces many challenges, which threaten the heritage of the world. Due to the rapid and numerous challenges, facing our heritage there is need for an environment, which encourages innovative and technologically sound thinking to ensure that our heritage provides for the current and future generations in the Islamic world.

The Award recognize and promote best practices in the conservation and management of tangible heritage and increase promotion and appreciation of the heritage in the Islamic world. It encourages excellent initiatives, which ensure remembering and celebrating the best of the heritage within our world. It aims to highlight the innovative practices in conservation and management of heritage in terms of skills used as well as social and economic impacts of the project on local communities.

The Award is for innovative individuals and organizations whose ideas are recognized to demonstrate an exceptional level of implementation, impact and public engagement to ensure conservation and management of the heritage in a sustainable way.

The award is named in honor of the Azerbaijani public figure Khurshidbanu Natavan, celebrating her charity, social activism, and philanthropy in safeguarding cultural heritage. Natavan, a prominent Azerbaijani poetess and philanthropist, played a vital role in preserving and promoting both tangible and intangible heritage in the 19th century. As the daughter of the last ruler of the Karabakh Khanate, she not only enriched Azerbaijani literature with her poetic works but also supported cultural initiatives, fostering artistic expression and community welfare. Natavan was instrumental in restoring historic structures, sponsoring local artisans, and promoting the rich musical, literary and other traditions of Karabakh. Her efforts in philanthropy and cultural preservation left a lasting legacy, making her a symbol of resilience and cultural pride in Azerbaijan.

Khurshidbanu left an eternal mark in the memories of the Shushavians. The springs built by Natavan from famous Shusha white stones were called «Natavan springs» and were also considered historical monuments under protection.
